

Large Language Models (LLMs) Workflow

Large Language Models (LLMs) are advanced artificial intelligence systems trained on vast amounts of text data to understand and generate human-like text. They use deep learning, specifically transformer architectures (like GPT, BERT, LLaMA), to process and predict text.

By Atsu Vovor¹

¹ Atsu Vovor: Consultant, Data & Analytics Specialist | Machine Learning | Data science | Quantitative Analysis | French & English Bilingual | atsu.vovor@bell.net | https://github.com/atsuvovor/Pub_Data_Analytics_Project | <https://public.tableau.com/app/profile/atsu.vovor8645/vizzes>